* Countries for which concept notes will have to address a research problem of regional relevance to be considered eligible for funding. It will need to be clearly demonstrated in the proposal that research results in these countries are applicable to other countries in the region.

‡At the time of this CIFSRF Call, IDRC has complete travel bans for IDRC staff in these countries, which would severely limit the ability to effectively monitor projects and may negatively influence funding decisions.

†Due to local security conditions, at the time of this CIFSRF Call, IDRC has partial travel bans for IDRC staff in these countries which would limit the ability to effectively monitor projects and may negatively influence funding decisions. Please note that it is acceptable to propose research in these countries with elevated risks in specific regions, but it is highly recommended that high-risk regions be avoided. The Government of Canada site should be monitored for information about risks in countries or specific regions of countries.
